

Educational Loan & Financial Planning Information

These resources can help you learn how to organize, schedule, and pay for your education. Some are government funded, some are private. All have something interesting to add to your options and are worth knowing about! Web info courtesy of <http://www.students.gov>.

StudentLoan.net

<http://www.studentloan.net>

An online guide to the entire student loan process for students, grad students, and parents, sponsored by lenders and other student loan professionals. Learn here about everything from applying for loans to consolidating them.

Financial Aid: You can afford it! (NASFAA)

<http://www.nasfaa.org/subhomes/doitaffordit/afford> ...

College is one of the biggest investments you and your family will ever make. There is help! This web site provides you with concrete information and advice about finding and applying for financial aid.

CollegeView - Financial Aid Office

<http://www.collegeview.com/finaid>

CollegeView's Financial Aid Office offers information and tools designed to help you estimate and understand the costs associated with higher education.

Paying For College (Collegeboard.com)

<http://www.collegeboard.com/pay>

Figure out what college really costs, what you can afford, and where to locate financial aid with advice from the College Board's experts and interactive tools for finding scholarships and student loans.

Mapping Your Future

<http://Mapping-Your-Future.org>

This site is sponsored by a group of guaranty agencies that are in the Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP) and want to provide information about higher education and career opportunities.

Cash for College (Natl Assoc of Student Financial Aid Administrators)

<http://www.nasfaa.org/SubHomes/Cash4college/index2> ...

Getting the education you want is possible. College isn't easy, but education after high school is within your reach. NASFAA's Cash for College page gives you the answers to common questions about student financial aid.

Plan for College (Sallie Mae)

<http://salliemae.com/plan>

Hosted by Sallie Mae, you'll find pointers on the entire school search process from preparation to getting loans, along with interactive tools to help you analyze school costs and compare financial aid award letters.

Petersons.com (educational services provider)

<http://www.petersons.com>

Petersons.com offers organized information about educational opportunities at all levels, as well as the ability to search Petersons' databases, request more information, or apply to a school or program.

Edlinks

<http://www.miolka.com/Edlinks.htm>

Edlinks aims to promote education by connecting students, teachers, and parents to educational- related links available on the Internet.

Financial Aid Consultants (Natl Assoc of Student Financial Aid Administrators)

<http://www.nasfaa.org/publications/2000/consultant> ...

Funded in part by a grant from The California Wellness Foundation.

These resources are provided for your information, but are not to be considered endorsements by OSHPD. Please investigate thoroughly before making any commitments!

Funded in part by a grant from The California Wellness Foundation.

These resources are provided for your information, but are not to be considered endorsements by OSHPD. Please investigate thoroughly before making any commitments!